Civilian Defense Field Exercises Will Be Staged

Township Commander Vos Announces Test Program for Sunday Afternoon

All air raid wardens of Antioch township are being called upon by Roman B. Vos, civilian defense commander, to notice that field exercises for the Citizens' Defense corps will be held Sunday, March 26, at 4 p. m. One long blast of the local fire siren will herald the opening of the exercises. Demobilization of those taking part will take place on the completing of all incidents, at about 5:30 p. m. No Public Participation

The purpose of the exercises is to test the fitness of the protective system, to give practical experience in handling incidents, and to develop the use of one or more services for the control of local emergencies. There will be no public participaion, Vos announces. Traffic will continue as usual, without stoppages, and industrial plants need not participate.

Painting of Addition to Sign Is Being Completed This Week

Further co-operation on the part of the public is being sought this week by the Antioch American Legion post and the Antioch News in bringing up to date and correcting the names on the Honor Roll in the village park, and on the Antioch-Lake Villa mailing list of men and women in the service. A list of names compiled for the Honor Roll is printed on page 2 of this issue of the Antioch News. It has been compiled by John L. Horan, who has also had charge of the files of names for the mailing list. Additions and corrections for the Honor Roll may be sent to Horan or to Roman B. Vos of the Legion. Mailing list corrections may be registered either with Horan or the Antioch vews office.

When revisions being made on the sign this week are completed, it will display the names of 357 men and women in the various branches of the United States armed services. There are more than 500 names on the mailing list of those who receive the Antioch News.

Black Miracle Brought to Light

A lump of coal is not dramatic compared to battleships and tanks plunging through enemy defenses with guns blazing. But before there could be today's battleships and tanks there had to be coal. Moreover, it had to be available in a quantity and form which required years of effort and scientific research on the part of the coal industry. Thanks to such research, coal is one of the most important and widely used materials in the war effort.

A large steel company recently devoted a page advertisement to the part coal plays in making steel. This single company consumes 17,000 tons of coal every day of the year-enough to heat 2,500 family dwellings during a long, cold winter. Modern steel is the result of blending coals of various types, grades and ages to obtain stronger, cleaner burning fuel for the blast furnaces. Sampling, testing and blending is done at the mines. A ton and seven-tenths of coal is required to make one ton of steel.

After the war, research now being conducted in coal will bring undreamed of benefits to everyone. For example, experiments are being made on pipeless heating units. Homes and apartments eventually will be heated by stoves no larger than small radios.

The coal being consumed in this country has lain dormant in the ground for three hundred million years. Modern industry has at last brought it to light-a black miracle. * * *

There are too many inferences spread today that wartime regulations will have to be continued for an indefinite period after the war-especially the price and rationing controls currently governing the distribution system. As long as restrictions on distribution are maintained, it is idle to talk of full production. Maximum production cannot be attained until distribution is freed of wartime regulations that curb competition and restrict the operating efficiency of the men who must finally put the luxuries and necessities produced by industry into the hands of consumers—the nation's retail merchants.

If there is to be the prosperous peace desired by all, it must begin with the reconversion plans for government itself. The nation is waiting anxiously to see those plans.

The following is a complete list of all Antioch Township servicemen whose names appear on the Honor Roll in the Village Park or whose names will appear there when the painting is completed. It is published with the hope that readers of the News will co-operate with the Antioch Legion Post in making doubly sure that no serviceman's name is omitted. If you know of any Antioch Township boy or girl who is in the service and whose name is not on this list please communicate with John L. Horan, Boys in Service Chairman for the Antioch Legion Post.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER 1: The story of the famous of the and 7th Bombardment Groups, of leut. Col. Frank Kurtz and his Fortress Lieut. Col. Frank Kurtz and his Fortress crew in the tremendous air campaign that saved the day for the United Nations in the Southwest Pacific. Lieut. Kurtz, who was pilot of the old Fortress, known as "The Swoose," which escaped from Clark Field, in the Philippines, tells of that fatal day when the Japs struck. He pedals to the wreck of Old 99, finds eight of his crew lying in an irregular line.

CHAPTER II: Lieut. Kurtz tells how orders to camouflage Old 99 were countermanded; instead they were to load bombs. Then he was ordered to jerk the bombs, reload with cameras and rush the camouflage. Preparations made for taking pictures of Formosa. Someone shouts. 'Look at that pretty navy formation.' The 'navy formation' happens to be a flight of Jap planes.

CHAPTER III: Bombs hit the mess hall. The Japs move off. They hear another hum. "P-40's," they think, but they prove to be Zeros coming in from the direction of Corregidor. The boys duck back into their foxholes.

CHAPTER IV: The pilots are given their targets and towering above the group is Colin Kelly, about to head out on his first mission. Buzz Wagner is chased by Japs in his P-40. He meets Lieut. Russ Church fails to return. The death of Colin Kelly.

CHAPTER V: Fortresses are kent in the air to save them from the Japs. Through some mistake someone opens are on them. Japs begin photographing the place. No longer safe to sleep in the barracks, cots are moved into a corn field. With no fighters left to defend them, evacuation begins. Lieut. Kurtz tells of last plane trip out in a patched-up plane. Japs land light tanks at Apari. Squadron commander Major Gibbs fails to return from mission. U. S. forces flee from Clark Field to Mindanao.

CHAPTER VI: Navigator Harry Schreiber tells of a fight with Zeros in which Shorty Wheless takes part. He lands in a rice paddy and is surrounded by Filipinos. The crew buys an outrigger cance and sail to the isle of Panay. Later they take off for Australia.

CHAPTER VII: Lieut. Kurtz takes up the slory again. He describes the hot, dry Christmas day in Australia, and how U. S. filers spent it. A report comes in over CW radio. It was from Schaetzel saying he'd be in after dark with one body aboard. Schaetzel gets in, is plane a wreck. Gen. Brereton lands on the field and the boys are summoned to a meeting.

CHAPTER VIII: U. S. filers arrive at the Dutch field, and shortly after start

CHAPTER VIII: U. S. filers arrive at the Dutch field, and shortly after start on flight for Davao, in the Philippines, but run short of gas and come home. Gas up and take off at midnight for Davao, but fail to make target. On third trip over, Kurtz sees tremendous concentration of ships, makes bomb run. Jap fighters come up. "Bombs awayt"

we had, and was about to turn for the getaway when I saw, just in time, that old Jim, who had dropped ready started his turn to get off the target a few seconds before me. He had his plane reefed in to a turn so | enough to tackle the Jap fleet. tight that his wing was practically vertical, and I had to cock mine up practically the same way to keep ! out of his way.

"So then when we got disentangled we put our planes into a slight dive to outrun the pursuit behind us. Those Zeros had started late off the ground, but a Zero can climb fastit has practically no weight at all and can climb better than 5,000 feet a minute. So we went into this inclining dive to pick up speed and stretch our distance from the target

"The next thing I did was to call down to the bombardier and the navigator to come on up and tell me what we'd done to the Japs. Gulping coffee and between chews of sandwiches, they told me and my co-pilot just how it had looked. Lying on their bellies and looking down and back, they'd been able to see the target some minutes after we'd

"They said it had been a sight to watch. A few of the Jap cruisers and destroyers had managed to get under way, and their wakes laced the water in great spirals and sworls as they tried to dodge the bombs. . Aside from these few, they said, we'd caught the Japs absolutely flatfooted. If there had been enough of us, we could have blown a chunk out of their fleet they would never have recovered from.

"They said it was beautiful to watch. One of the ships was keeling slowly, another's nose was tilting up from a direct hit on her stern, which was already under before we went out of sight.

"They said our bomb pattern had churned the whole area white with spouts of foam, and what few ships had their power up were running around like crazy. They said thousands of skilled personnel had been killed or drowned, and also that we had torn hell out of the dock workers and docks at Davao Harbor.

"Only I don't have time to gloat long, for something approaching us from ahead catches my eye through the windshield. It's practically flying our course and our altitude, ex- cloud, but instead have flown out cept that it's off to the left. But am of one of the walls of an enormous I seeing a ghost? It can't be what I think it is, a Messerschmitt 110, the kind that Ernst Udet told me all about in Berlin when I visited there in 1934. There can't be a Messerschmitt 110 in this hemisphere, split tail?

"Anyway there it is, coming nearer and nearer. 'The Messerschmitt 110's have plenty of range, so the Japs must be using her as a scout plane. We've altered our course from the phony one to the real one which will bring us home. And now this flying nightmare—out of its continent and its hemisphere-has undoubtedly seen us and can surely figure out that we're headed for Bornco, where we must be based. And just now is approaching us at an angle where, if I dare to, I could peel off my formation and give him a lot of trouble. "He doesn't alter his course and I don't alter mine; and after he's passed the point where I could set up a collision course with him, I begin to come to my senses, to realize that I'm the pilot of a Flying Fortress and my job is to get home safely with these boys and this plane, which was never designed to engage in dogfights with Messerschmitts.

"We got back to Malang feeling pretty pleased with ourselves," said Frank, "and I personally felt I had made headway settling my old Philippine score. But in Java we found there were troubles ahead, and the least of these was that our Navy was accusing us of bombing their ships. They didn't say any of them had been hit, just that they'd had to beat off an attack, and it occurred to me that this might explain all those fireworks which came whooping up under our chins through the overcast that night over the Celebes Sea. But we were never

"So we said, 'Then why don't you tell us where your ships are going to be?' but it seemed that had never been done-a ruling from the Navy Department in Washington. I guess those guys must take some kind of a bomb-sight oath never to tell anything to anybody who doesn't wear black shoes.

"But plenty more was going on. It developed that our smash at the Jap fleet in Davao had been almost too successful. Because Davao was no longer a safe base for them, they had apparently boosted up their schedule by two or three weeks. Our reconnaissance went clear up to the Davao area and reported nothing there; then we found out the whole gang had moved out together and they were off the coast of Borneo, moving down into Macassar Strait, and it was clear they intended to clean out Borneo-not only because of our advance bases there, but because they wanted the rich oil fields at Tarakan and Balakpapan on the eastern coast of Borneo, where the oil is so rich they say you can pump it right into the bunkoff some fields of their own.

"And who was going to stop them? his bombs before I did, had al- It was up to us to try, because we seemed to be the only force the United Nations had in that area big

"We were briefed before dawntold everything that was known about this big Jap gang of ships off northeast Borneo-and at 6:30 in the morning nine of us took off from the Malang Field. We planned to fly over the Java Sea and then inland over Borneo, carrying to start with an altitude of about 9,500 feet. But about eight o'clock we hit a tropical front which was a nightmare-fog so dense you could hardly see to light the tip of your cigarette.

"When we saw it coming ahead, each V spread out a little, so we wouldn't collide. Only we didn't dream how dense and how long it was going to be.

"It was like trying to fly inside a giant bale of cotton-so dense that tips. And looking straight ahead, packed against your windshield, only it was a dull flat gray-white, like the cotton I imagine they'd spin winding sheets out of. And you'd stare into the windshield, trying to see how close you were to your wing man, but there would only be that your windshield, muffling every-thing. Then all of a sudden, the wing of the plane ahead would come surging into view out of that winding sheet, so terribly big and close that you would frantically jerk back "As it was, they had watched four all four throttles to cut your power, and begin fishtailing your rudder to slow the big brute down a little, praying that by this you'd miss

"We'd been fighting through it on instruments, because inside that cotton bale you couldn't see stars or ocean, and it took so much hard flying that I was having my co-pilot handle the power for me. If I thought I was dropping behind the rest, maybe I would get lost and have to go over the target alone, which by now we knew was a dangerous business, I'd say to him, 'All right, give me a little more mercury now-about four inches.' Then when I'd catch a glimpse of the plane ahead I'd say: Okay, now you can bring it back to thirty inches. We're sitting okay-I can see him fine.' And I could for a minute or so. "Without warning I break into the clear. I haven't climbed over that cloud canyon and am now flying around in the clear air between the precipices. "Ahead of me looms the other canyon wall. Maybe it's thirty miles away, maybe fifty-you can't ever but what else could it be with that judge the distance of a cloud, be- target, and we'd have to come down cause they don't come in standard below it to unload.

sizes. But cloud canyons like this one are one magnificent sight that you never see any place except in the high skies. "Because, you see, the morning sun was slanting down from behind me, over the top of the canyon wall out of which I had just come, to hit the top half of the cloud-canyon wall ahead. That top half might have been built out of burnished silver feather beds piled one on top the other, and yet you looked again and it seemed to be so firm it could be carved of glistening ice or mar-

"I am wondering if old .Jim is also looking at all this when suddenly his voice comes out of nowhere into my earphones. "'Connally to Kurtz,' he is call-

" 'Have you broken into the clear yet?' he asks.

He is circling. "'I think I see you, Jim,' I call.

'Continue to circle.' I head toward the plane and fall in on its wing, continuing the long slow circle inside the canyon in the hope we'll pick up some of the others, and won't have to go in on the target alone. Meanwhile the radio operators of the two planes have started talking to each other by winking their Aldis lamps back and forth. We're so near the target I don't want to use the radio any more than necessary. And just then I spot a third planeabout 500 feet below us and farther west down the canyon. Just as I'm wondering which one it is, my radio operator reports that the plane we're circling on isn't Jim at all, it's Bill Bohnaker. So we drop on down the canyon and sure enough, that third plane turns out to be old Jim. I can read his number plain now on his tail. Now there are three of us in the circle, wondering what in hell has become of the other six. when you looked out at the side you | We haven't got the gas to stay in could barely see your own wing this golden dream castle much longer. But just then my radio operator that bale of cotton seemed tightly comes in with a message from Combs, the leader. God knows where he is, but he's telling us, 'Continuing to target,' and he's sertding it out by key, where he can use code, because he daren't use voice so close to the target as he must by now be, because most of these damn flat white, squeezed tight against Zero pilots seemed to have graduated from Los Angeles High School and understand English as well as you do.

"All right, continue it is, so now we plunged back into that damned front-the opposite canyon wall-and the gray mist packed down around my windshield again. We continued to climb in that deathly whitenessfirst one wing and then the other surging into my view. I flew it for forty-five minutes and decided it was just too much to risk crashing into each other when we were so close to the target. So without any message to Jim or Bill I decided I'd spread out. I flew 45 degrees for thirty seconds, then back thirty more seconds, and then continued on the old course-flying on instruments, of course. But now that we were staggered both in altitude and in interval, it wasn't so bad.

"Finally we broke out into the clear at 27,000 feet at a quarter after ten and discovered we had lost interval only by a very little. But I was groggy-we'd been on oxygen for four and a half hours already.

Smart Farmers are saying, "I'll take my fertilizer NOW!"

"I used to wait until spring to buy my fertilizer. But, times have changed! Today there is a shortage of labor for handling deliveries; potash and phosphates are in greater demand than available supplies can take care of. Every farmer will want to step up yields again this year. I know, from long experience, that the best way to do this is with DARLING'S SOIL BUILDERS. I've seen how it increased yields of corn selected year after year for National and State Corn Husking Contests. It's my first choice among fertilizers.

"No one can tell what delays or other shortages we may have this spring. I am changing my buying habits and getting DARLING'S Fertilizer NOW."

ANTIOCH MILLING CO. IS READY FOR YOU

It's a wise farmer who takes his spring fertilizer NOW. Shortage of hands for shipping, truckingcombined with uncertainty of product restrictions, warrant storing spring fertilizer on the farm. DAR-

LING'S Fertilizer in moisture-resisting 80-lb. Handiwate paper bags is easy to handle and easy to store. Don't wait and hope to get it in the spring. Take your fertilizer NOW and avoid delays or disappointment when you are ready for planting. We suggest your calling on us NOW.

GAS RATIONS:

West Cut

Because of expanded farm and highway needs, gas rations for all 'A' card holders west of the Alleghany mountains were cut from three to two gallons per coupon, the reduction being accomplished by extending the validity of the coupons from 7 to 10 days.

Effect of the OPA action was to take away one of the three gallons on the "A" coupon allotted for essential driving, and bring westerners' "A" rations to the same level as in the 17 eastern states.

Cut in the "A" coupons does not affect holders of "B" and "C" coupons, who will be able to obtain additional ration allotments for occupational driving to offset the reduc-tion in the "A" card values.

OIL RESERVES

Vast reserves of petroleum still exist in the United States and the resources of Alaska have scarcely been tapped, according to geologist Wallace Pratt of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. He said that in Texas alone from which nearly half the nation's petroleum comes, the "proved" area constitutes less than 1 per cent of the total area of the state in which it might be reasonable to expect oil deposits. The nation, he continued, is far from the end of its resources.

THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY NORTHERN ILLINOIS AWOI ILLINOIS How this rich farm land fits into

Located in the heart of the most productive agricultural section in America, this area of Northern Illinois is noted for its farming diversification.

Here are thousands of rich dairy farms that supply the great Chicago milk shed. Here are poultry farms that have grown in size and number to help meet America's wartime needs. Here, too, are farmlands where hogs, cattle and sheep thrive ... where grain and produce grow in abundance. In addition to the advantages nature bestowed, this agricultural region has many favorable economic factors. It is the largest packing center and the greatest grain and livestock market in the world. It is the hub of the nation's transportation and a financial capital. Here are electric power plants of vast capacity for extending the benefits of electricity to the farmer and for processing agricultural products.

What Did You Do Today?

By Lt. Dean Shatlain, Tank Commander (Written on an African battlefield)

What did you do today, my friend, From morning till the night? How many times did you complain That rationing is too tight? When are you going to start to do All of the things you say? A soldier would like to know, my friend, What did you do today? We met the enemy today And took the town by storm. Happy reading is will make For you tomorrow morn. You'll read with satisfaction The brief communique, We fought, but are you fighting? What did you do today? My gunner died in my arms today, I feel his warm blood yet, Your neighbor's dying boy gave out A cry I'll never forget. On my right a tank was hit, A flash and then a fire, The stench of burning flesh Still rises from the pyre. What did you do today, my friend, To help us with the task? Did you work harder and longer for less, Or is it too much to ask? What right have I to ask you this, You probably will say, Maybe now you'll understand,

(Lt Shatlain amputated his own foot with a jackknife and thought he was dying as he wrote this poem. He was rescued by Americans after two hours of hiding and is now recuperating in a hospital in England.)

You see . . . I died today.
